

Pauline Pressburger, née Pressburger
Deported to Theresienstadt in 1942.

Pauline was born in Rexingen on March 3rd 1875. Her parents were Ricke Pressburger and Isak Pressburger who lived in Schölller. She married the cattle-dealer Max Pressburger, son of Sofie Zürndorfer and Elias Wolf Pressburger. They had a large farm in Schölller, the only large Jewish farm in Rexingen.

The Pressburger family in front of their house “Im Schölller” in Rexingen.

Four of their seven children managed to emigrate. One son committed suicide when he lost his job. There is no trace of the fate of the other two children. Max Pressburger died in 1938 and is buried in Rexingen. Pauline’s sister Frederike and her brother-in-law, Berthold Schweizer from Baisingen, were deported to Riga in 1941.

On September 29th 1942 Pauline Pressburger was taken from Theresienstadt to Treblinka where she was murdered.

Family photo on the occasion of the wedding of Martin and Hilde Pressburger in 1934 in front of the synagogue in Rexingen. On the extreme right, Max and Pauline Pressburger. In the upper row, Pauline’s sister Frederike with her husband Berthold Schweizer.